Rule 2723, Internal Controls; Slots, in its current posture requires verification and witness by an additional permitted gaming employee when the jackpot is less than $1,200. If the jackpot is $1,200 or greater, the additional permitted gaming employee shall be an employee from a department independent of the department performing the payout. The rule also requires if the jackpot is $1,200 or greater in value, certain information shall be obtained by the slot attendant prior to payout and for preparation of a Form W-2G. The proposed change would replace the $1,200 threshold amount with the amount required for the filing of a W-2G or similar federal tax withholding form. The proposed change maintains the requirement that an additional permitted gaming employee shall be an employee from a department independent of the department
